

Platform Migration Authorization

Purpose

Xennial Digital has announced that the Xennial Digital XR Platform will be discontinued and will stop functioning in early April.

To ensure continued access to existing immersive learning applications, AttainXR and QR Studio are offering a transition program that enables participating organizations to migrate their existing applications and user environment to the QR Studio platform.

This page authorizes AttainXR and QR Studio to begin that migration process.

Migration Overview

As part of this transition program:

- Existing VR applications will be updated to connect to the QR Studio platform

- The new platform environment will be populated with existing user accounts

- Available analytics and usage data will be migrated where technically feasible

The migration process will typically occur in stages:

- Platform setup and administrator access

- Validation with one instructor and student group

- Activation of student users and broader deployment

Migration is performed on a best-efforts basis due to differences between platforms and legacy system constraints.

Authorization

By submitting this form, the organization authorizes:

AttainXR to coordinate the transition and establish the commercial relationship for continued platform and application access.

QR Studio to perform the technical work required to migrate applications, user accounts, and associated platform data to the QR Studio platform.

This authorization allows QR Studio to begin the transition process.

Platform Access and Terms

Organizations migrating to the QR Studio platform will receive a direct platform account with QR Studio.

Use of the platform is subject to the following policies:

QR Studio End User License Agreement (EULA)

QR Studio Privacy Policy

AttainXR Privacy Policy

Links to these policies are provided below. Agreement to the migration implies acceptance and is required before migration work can begin.

Invoicing and Commercial Terms

AttainXR will send an invoice that serves as the order form confirming the agreed subscription terms for platform access and associated applications.

The invoice will establish the commercial relationship between the organization and AttainXR, with QR Studio as a subcontractor.

Platform access credentials and administrative onboarding will follow confirmation of the order.

Data and Privacy

User account information and usage data may be transferred as part of the migration process where technically feasible.

The QR Studio platform is designed to support educational institutions and may store student-related data consistent with applicable privacy practices, including FERPA considerations where applicable.

Full details are described in the privacy policies referenced above.

Migration Disclaimer

While AttainXR and QR Studio will work to ensure a smooth transition, migration from the Xennial platform involves legacy systems and technical dependencies.

Accordingly:

Migration services are provided on a best-efforts basis

Some historical data or configurations may not transfer exactly

Minor application updates may be required to operate on the new platform

Both organizations will work with administrators during the transition process to validate the new environment before student rollout.

Authorization and Acceptance

By submitting this form, you confirm that:

You are authorized to act on behalf of your organization

Your organization authorizes AttainXR and QR Studio to proceed with the migration described above

You acknowledge and accept the policies referenced on this page.
